Each student at Colorado Mountain College (CMC) is part of the College community and has certain rights and responsibilities. Each student is expected to demonstrate respect for authority, public and private property, and the rights and privileges of others. The College, in turn, endeavors to provide a positive learning environment that encourages growth and personal understanding of each student's responsibilities and privileges.

The College has established and shall maintain a Student Code of Conduct and Adjudication and Appeal Process that identifies student rights and responsibilities that shall be communicated and made available to all students in multiple manners.

The College President or his or her designee shall promulgate such procedures as may be necessary for the implementation of this policy.
